SECURING YOUR INTELLECTUAL PROPERTY

Privacy Policy

Last Revision: 21/11/2011

Introduction

Thank you for taking the time to review our Privacy Policy. At times, Securicom will collect certain personal information about customers subscribed to services hosted by us. Such information will include both identifiable personal data, as well as non-identifiable personal information. Identifiable personal information will be collected when you sign a contract for service with us, or use our website for a transaction or subscription service. Non-identifiable information is gathered automatically when you visit our service portals or those websites hosted by us, and stored for use in our system.

The purpose of this privacy policy is to explain to customers what types of information we will collect and how that information is used. In most cases, we collect this information to ensure network integrity and that we continue to provide you with the most relevant content and best possible service that suits your needs. In some cases, we are required by law to collect personal information about customers. Except where the law requires otherwise, we undertake to protect the confidentiality of such data.

Confidentiality

Securicom respects customer privacy and the privacy of those accessing our website and services. We undertake to protect the confidentiality of our customers and users including all personal information supplied in the course of contracting with us for services. We undertake not to sell your personal information to third parties for commercial or marketing purposes.

Collection of Personal Data

Securicom collects personal data about our users when you subscribe to services hosted by us; respond to a customer questionnaire; or integration of services such as Active Directory services.

Use of Personal Data

Securicom may on occasion use your personal information to contact you about promotional offers; advise you of matters relevant to service provision and in some cases, solicit your feedback. However, Securicom will provide you with an option within every communication to opt out of receiving any communications of this nature or you can contact our customer services representatives to ensure that you do not receive such promotional information, at 0861 591 591.

Securicom may log the websites you visit; collect IP addresses and information about your operating system and the type of browser you use for the purposes of network/system administration and to audit the use of our services. This data however will not be used to identify individual users who will at all times remain anonymous.

Any information Securicom collects from you through correspondence with us, whether via e-mail, telephonically or by written letter, will only be used to address the matters within that correspondence. If this requires referring such correspondence within Securicom or to a third party to ensure customer service, your personal information will only be disclosed to the point necessary to address your query or concerns, and will otherwise be kept confidential.

Reservation of Rights

Securicom reserves the right to disclose information about customers where required in good faith, to do so by law or to exercise our legal rights or defend ourselves against legal claims.

Securicom further reserves the right to share information with law enforcement to investigate or prevent illegal activities being committed over our network.

Securicom reserves our rights to disclose your personal information where you have given us explicit legal written consent to do so.

Securicom reserves the right to monitor user and network traffic for site security purposes and prevent any unauthorized attempts to tamper with our site or cause damage to our property.

Securicom reserves the right to make changes to this privacy policy or update it. Where a major change is made, customers will be informed by e-mail notification or through a notice on our website. Customers and site visitors bear the responsibility to ensure that they have read the changes or updates as the case may be.
